

Effective January 1, 2010, Oregon buildings that meet these qualifications are required by law to have at least one Automated External Defibrillator (AED) and trained personnel on their premises. Read the new law here.

Fortunately, the American Red Cross can help with all your AED needs -- from purchase to training to maintenance.

Sudden cardiac arrest is one of the leading causes of death in the United States, claiming 325,000 lives annually. Starting at just $1,500 for an AED, the Willamette Chapter can help ensure that your company is ready to respond to a cardiac emergency where people spend most of their waking time – the workplace.

The Red Cross can provide one point of contact for:

- Purchasing an AED unit
- Purchasing AED supplies, accessories, and storage devices
- Acquiring contacts for medical direction
- AED protocol information
- CPR/AED/First Aid training
- Annual reminders & follow up information
- Training and supplies for disaster response

Remember, when you purchase an AED and safety training from the American Red Cross, you are not only making an investment toward protecting your employees and visitors, your organization is also supporting our mission to save and rebuild lives here in Oregon.
